While St. Patrick's Day is a once-a-year holiday, Irish food can be enjoyed year-round! Whether stocking specialty grocery shelves, planning your Irish Pub menu, or adding some Irish flair to your menu, we have some new and tried-and-true favorites for you!

The Full Irish Breakfast was originally served as a way to keep farmers full throughout the long and labor-intensive day. It was traditionally prepared in one pan and used ingredients straight from the farm or sourced in the local area.

The cornerstone of a Full Irish Breakfast is the meats—both back bacon and bangers are essential. A long-time favorite at European Imports, the Jolly Posh range of bangers, back bacon and white and black puddings reflect owner Nick Spencer's Irish heritage and are lovingly and locally made in America following time-honored, traditional recipes.

Donnelly has been supplying quality Irish meats to the United States for 30 years. Their Pork Bangers are made from 100% Irish pork and are in 2 oz links, perfect for the breakfast occasion. Their Back Bacon pork has full traceability to family farms that raise happy, healthy pigs. Add some Batchelors Baked Beans, eggs, potatoes, tomatoes and toast to your Irish Meats and you have a Full Irish Breakfast!

Looking for more savory treats from the Emerald Isle? Create a cheese board with Irish specialties from Cahill's, Kerrygold, Oscar Wilde and Tipperary.

European Imports has expanded its offerings from Kerrygold just in time for St. Patrick's Day, adding:

- Reserve Cheddar, Swiss, and Dubliner Wedges
- Dubliner and Aged Cheddar Snack Sticks
- Dubliner and Aged Cheddar Slices, perfect for topping a burger or creating a grilled cheese.
- Irish Butter—Salted Minis and a Garlic and Herb Butter Stick

Kerrygold's Cashel Blue is a semi-soft, creamy Irish farmhouse cheese, distinguished by its round, full flavor and signature tang. Its buttery color is punctuated by characteristic blue veining. Lovingly crafted by the Grubb Family, Cashel Blue Cheese is made on the family farm with milk from grass-fed dairy cows that graze on some of Ireland's most lush and nutrient rich pastures.

Discover some of our lighter fare from the Emerald Isle on Page 8.

QUALITY THAT SHINES

then produce cheeses that let the flavors and quality of the milk shine through.

Sweet Grass Dairy is located in Thomasville, GA, just north of Tallahassee, Florida. The dairy is minimally affected by seasonality because of their mild winters with no snow. They have a year-round milk supply and unlimited water supply from the Floridan Aquifer. Sweet Grass Dairy's cows are farmed using a New Zealand style rotational grazing method which helps sequester carbon back into the soil & reverse global warming trends. They own roughly 1,500 cows on 3 different farms. Each cow is at least 50% Jersey with crosses of Holstein, New Zealand Friesian, Norwegian Red (similar to Ayrshire).

Sweet Grass Dairy is a second generation, family-owned creamery based in Thomasville, Georgia. They produce handmade artisan cheeses from cow's milk. The cows are raised barn free, grazing on fresh grass year round.

Co-Owner Jessica Little grew up helping her parents manage the 350-acre dairy farm that continues to provide Sweet Grass Dairy's milk today. Together, Jessica and her husband Jeremy have stayed loyal to the values the creamery was founded on over 20 years ago: take exceptional care of the grass and the cows, and

Traiteur de Paris

High-quality prepared products are hard to come by. The benefits of fully prepared products are obvious, but too often they come with a decrease in quality. When we find products made with outstanding ingredients and French know-how, we know they should be part of the assortment here at European Imports.

Traiteur de Paris has been a producer of premium French frozen desserts, sweet petits fours, and cooked side dishes since 1995. They strive to provide the finest French craftsmanship, with all products created by Chefs and 100% made in France. The delicious products are clean label and free from artificial colors, flavors, preservatives, and GMOs. Traiteur de Paris provides excellent quality and consistency to streamline operations, saving labor and time in the kitchen without compromising on quality.

While Traiteur de Paris might be best known for their desserts and petits fours, we are excited to add two new savory products to the line: Gougère and Potato Waffles.

Gougère, or French cheese puffs, can be a laborious endeavor. Making choux dough is a skill not everyone possesses. And not every kitchen has high quality cage free eggs and French Comte laying around. Fortunately, the chefs at Traiteur de Paris have us covered. Usually enjoyed as a nibble to start your dinner alongside a cocktail or glass of wine, these gougère are also great as a light and airy passed hors d'oeuvre at any event — best enjoyed with your pinky thrust outwards.

Boasting a similar high quality, the new French Potato Waffle is extremely versatile. Developed by the Traiteur de Paris chefs, these potato waffles are made with more than 40% potatoes grown in Brittany. They are a unique, oven-baked product with a light, crispy exterior and a melt-in-the-mouth mashed potato center. Ideal for breakfast, brunch, or as a side for lunch and dinner.

Golden brown from the oven, you can top it with crème fraîche, smoked salmon, and chives with a little smoked trout roe to really set it off for a first course. You could also offer it as a side to a banquet entrée next to grilled filet or roasted salmon. And finally, why not top with some sauteed spinach, an artichoke bottom, and some hollandaise for a memorable Benedict-esque spin for brunch? The options are plentiful!

AUTHENTICALLY SCANDINAVIAN

Noon Hour Food Products is a fourth-generation, family-owned and operated company that was founded in 1876. In 1975, Noon Hour acquired Swedish Food Products – adding Lund's Swedish Pancake Mix to its growing product offerings, while maintaining its focus on providing the highest quality specialty Scandinavian food products.

The recipe for Lund's Swedish Pancake Mix can be traced back to 1911, where Swedish Pancakes were the featured menu item at Lund's Swedish Pancake Restaurant in Denver, Colorado. The pancake mix was commercialized for national distribution in 1958. And since 1975

Noon Hour has proudly distributed the product to grocery stores across the United States.

Lund's Swedish Pancake Mix stands out from other pancake mixes with several distinctive selling points:

Authentic Swedish Recipe: Lund's Swedish Pancake Mix is crafted based on a traditional Swedish recipe, offering an authentic taste and texture that distinguishes it from regular pancake mixes. This mix creates thin, delicate pancakes, often referred to as "Swedish crepes," which are different from the thicker, fluffier American-style pancakes.

Unique Texture and Flavor: Lund's Swedish Pancake Mix produces pancakes with a light, airy, and slightly crispy texture. The flavor is subtle and slightly sweet, making them versatile enough to pair with a variety of toppings like lingonberries, powdered sugar, or savory ingredients.

Premium Ingredients: Lund's is known for using high-quality, simple ingredients that stay true to Scandinavian culinary traditions. This commitment to quality results in a more wholesome and flavorful pancake compared to some mass-market mixes that may use artificial ingredients or preservatives.

Cultural Experience: By choosing Lund's Swedish Pancake Mix, customers are buying more than just a pancake mix—they're purchasing a piece of Swedish culture. This appeals to those interested in exploring international cuisines or those with Scandinavian heritage.

Ease of Use: Despite its gourmet appeal, Lund's Swedish Pancake Mix is easy to prepare. It simplifies the process of making traditional Swedish pancakes, allowing anyone to recreate this cultural delicacy at home.

Healthier Alternative: The mix is typically lower in sugar and fat compared to American pancake mixes, offering a lighter and healthier breakfast option. This can attract health-conscious consumers who want to enjoy pancakes without the extra calories and sugar.

Below are a few serving suggestions.

Classic Swedish Pancakes (Pannkakor) — These thin, delicate pancakes are typically served with lingonberry jam, whipped cream, or a dusting of powdered sugar.

Dessert Crepes — Turn your pancakes into a sweet treat by filling them with Nutella, fresh fruit, or sweetened cream cheese. Add a drizzle of chocolate sauce or a sprinkle of cinnamon sugar for an indulgent dessert that's simple to make but feels gourmet.

Swedish Pancake Cake (Pannkakstårta) — Create a unique Swedish Pancake Cake by layering the pancakes with whipped cream and jam between each layer. This can be a stunning alternative to traditional cakes for special occasions or gatherings.

Breakfast Roll-Ups: Use the pancakes as a base for breakfast roll-ups. Fill them with scrambled eggs, bacon, cheese, or even yogurt and fruit, then roll them up for a portable, on-the-go breakfast option.

FRENCH CULINARY EXCELLENCE

At the start of the 20th century, Mont Saint-Michel was famously marked by La Mère Poulard and the Marquis of Tombelaine. Annette Poulard, a talented cook, arrived with the architect Mr. Corroyer and eventually opened her inn, La Mère Poulard, in 1888. She gained fame for her secret omelet recipe, which became a signature dish. Annette's warmth and culinary skills made her an ambassador of French cuisine, and she successfully ran the inn for 70 years, leaving a legacy of recipes that continue to inspire today.

During her time at the inn, Annette Poulard also baked her famous butter biscuits daily in her kitchen for the children of pilgrims visiting Mont Saint-Michel, creating a lasting connection between the inn and these delectable treats. This personal touch contributed to the cookies becoming a symbol of comfort and hospitality.

La Mère Poulard derives its honorary title of “Mother” from its expertise, its traditional recipes, and its working methods, which take into consideration the quality of the products used. Over time, the reputation of La Mère Poulard and its iconic cookies spread beyond the borders of Normandy and Brittany. The biscuits quickly gained recognition as a symbol of French culinary excellence and were enjoyed by tourists, royalty, and gourmets alike.

La Mère Poulard Butter Cookies are crafted with care, as close as possible to artisanal quality. They are made with minimal processing using natural ingredients, including Free Range eggs and pure butter, without palm oil or additives, preserving their authentic, rich, buttery flavor.

Today, La Mère Poulard Cookies continues to produce the same buttery, melt-in-the-mouth cookies, using the original recipes passed down through generations. These delicious treats are perfect for a variety of applications, adding a touch of French elegance to any occasion.

Here are a few serving suggestions:

A Simple Indulgence: Enjoy them on their own with a cup of tea, coffee, or hot chocolate.

A Dessert Pairing: Serve with a scoop of vanilla ice cream, mousse, or sorbet to enhance the dessert experience.

A Cheese Pairing: Pair with soft cheeses like brie or goat cheese for a savory-sweet combination, perfect for a cheese board.

LIGHTER FARE FROM THE EMERALD ISLE

While the Full Irish Breakfast is a beloved classic, sometimes a simpler, more delicate start to the day is in order—like a steaming bowl of Irish oatmeal and a perfectly brewed cup of tea.

Oats have been grown in Ireland for centuries because they adapt well to the mild, yet ever-changing climate. McCann's Oatmeal is well loved and comes in all forms, from instant packets to canisters of the oatmeal to cook stovetop. Put instant packets or cups in a hotel room or grab-n-go area, or make a batch to serve at a sit-down breakfast or on a buffet.

Don't forget the tea. The Irish are the second biggest tea drinkers in the world. They enjoy it with or without milk or sweeteners, as long as it is a warm cup of tea. Believe it or not, the Irish actually drink more tea per person than their neighbors in England!

- 7494461 Taylors Irish Breakfast Tea 6/50ct

A few other favorites from the Emerald Isle that extend beyond breakfast:

Ballymaloe creates traditional Irish sauces and relishes. From their Original Tomato Relish to their Cranberry and Mint Sauces, use these classics to dress up meats.

Lakeshore Strong Irish Mustard is smooth yet strong, giving it the nickname "The Irish Wasabi." A perfect accompaniment to Roast Beef and Yorkshire Pudding. Lakeshore Irish Whiskey Mustard perfectly complements pates, cheese, and salamis and pairs nicely with pork.

Last but not least, McDonnell's Curry Sauce is a favorite condiment in Ireland. Serve with fries for a dipping sauce!
