As fall sports like football take center stage, fans indulge in classic game-day foods that elevate the experience. From sizzling grilled burgers and hot dogs to pizza, appetizers, and thirst-quenching Bloody Mary's topped with an abundance of garnishes, these fan-favorite foods are essential to the game day experience. Whether tailgating at the stadium or watching from a local bar, these savory delights fuel the spirit of the fall sports season.

Just like with any meal, it's typical to start your game watch with a thirst-quenching beverage. Whether your team has an early start or a primetime slot, one game day beverage staple is the Bloody Mary. Natural Blonde offers an award-winning mix using sun-ripened, vibrant golden yellow tomatoes that is not only light and refreshing, it's also eye-catching! Available in the original Golden and new Spicy variety, customers will want to try this one. As always, a Bloody Mary is not complete without the garnishes. From crunchy Tillen Farm Vegetables to Black Kassel Salami Whips and Ellsworth Cheese Curds, we have your garnish must-haves.

Appetizers are also a staple for game watches, both because of the varying game start times (hello, mid-afternoon games) or the ability to share them amongst a crowd. This time last year, we shared that Barbeque Chicken Wings grew 373% on menus over the prior year, making it the fastest-growing menu item in the U.S. Over this past year, Lemon Pepper Chicken Wings grew 37% — and are projected to grow 248% over the next four years!* Introduce Spiceology's Salt-Free Lemon Pepper or Buffalo Lemon Pepper seasoning to your customers as a great game day wing solution. *Source: Datassential Midyear Trends Sneak Peek

Another game day appetizer favorite is the soft pretzel. While Pretzilla's Soft Pretzel Bites are widely loved, take a look at some of the newest Pretzilla offerings this fall. Their 6 inch Pretzel Breadsticks are perfect for dipping into beer cheese and mustard sauces. Meanwhile, the Cheddar Cheese and Cinnamon Sugar Cream Cheese Filled Pretzel Bites don't require the mess of dips at all!

Two additional fan favorites are Burgers and Pizza. Check out the newest items to take your Burgers and Pizzas to new heights:

- Grass-fed Lamb 2-ounce sliders and 6-ounce burgers from Pasture Perfect.
- Premium Sliced Cheese options from Maple Leaf Cheese and The Smoked Cheese Factory.
- Both a rectangular and round variety of hand-stretched, soft and airy Pinsa Crust from Il Pane di Villa.

See Page 7 to read about some key trends to watch out for in this Fall in Burgers and Pizza.

OVER 200 AWARDS FOR A REASON!

Nestled in Wisconsin's hilly countryside, dotted by dairy farms, and near the Lake Michigan shore, Pine River has been crafting award-winning cheese spreads since 1963. The richness of America's Dairyland right in their backyard, combined with state-of-the-art equipment, exacting manufacturing standards and highly trained cheese makers ensure skillfully crafted cheese spreads in every batch.

Key Selling Points:

- They are the most award-winning cheese spread maker! They have won over 200 awards throughout the world.
- They use award-winning Grade A Butter from a local WI dairy instead of unhealthy fatty oils.
- Specifically formulated whey adds delicious flavor and smooth texture to their spreads.
- These spreads are made in small batches to preserve the quality and authenticity of their recipes.

Their state-of-the-art facility is Safe Quality Food (SQF)-Certified ensuring products are manufactured to the highest possible quality and food safety standards.

Unique Applications

- Spread onto any sandwich or burger
- Add to any charcuterie board

“CHI MANGIA BENE, VIVA BENE”

‘He who eats well, lives well.’ In the spirit of living as well as one can, I was lucky enough to make the pilgrimage to Parma, Italy this last spring to where our Il Numero Uno Prosciutto di Parma is produced. In the early morning as we travelled up the narrow and winding road I knew I was in for an experience I would never forget. I was allowed to work the plant—learning from craftspeople that have practiced their trade for years.

I witnessed the evolution of a log of pork fresh from the farm to prosciutto; I watched each step from applying the sugna to finally testing hams close to doneness with a horse bone called “Ago Osso di Cavallo.” With such a simple ingredient list of pork and salt, the land and the wind are considered the essential third and fourth ingredients. The quality and flavor owes so much to the land they are created in and by. These hams complete their journey from raw pork to one of the triumphs of Italy’s food traditions in pristine surroundings at the top of a ridge of mountains, far removed from the pollution below.

CULATELLO DI ZABELLO DOP

Il Numero Uno Culatello di Zabello DOP is a product of meticulous craftsmanship and time. Its origins trace back to the Parma region, where specific climatic conditions contribute to its unique flavor profile. The process begins with the selection of the finest pork hind leg. This delicacy focuses on the posterior muscle. This muscle is carefully separated, boned, and trimmed before entering the curing process.

The curing itself is a delicate balance of salt, time, and environment. The meat is meticulously salted and massaged to ensure even distribution of flavor. Subsequently, it's encased in a pig's bladder, and hung in specially controlled cellars. This method lends Culatello its name. These cellars provide the ideal humidity and temperature for the gradual drying and curing process. Over months, the meat undergoes a transformation, developing its characteristic beguilingly intense flavor and tender texture.

The final product is a culinary masterpiece. Il Numero Uno Culatello boasts a rich, complex taste with hints of hazelnut and spice. Its buttery texture melts in the mouth, making it a true delight for the palate. The entire process, from the careful selection of the raw material through the patient aging, is a testament to the passion and dedication of the producers who create this extraordinary food.

800-DAY PROSCIUTTO DI PARMA

Our 800-day aged Prosciutto di Parma is similarly given much care. In their facility nestled in the mountains, these legs are selected for their size and fat content as ideal candidates for extra aging. Once time, terroir and the simple breezes have achieved brilliance, these hams aren't pressed like so many others. Its natural shape is left intact, being trussed by hand for a truly appealing presentation. The resulting depth of flavor and alluring aroma is a discerning choice for any application. Enjoy out of hand alone or with some fresh figs and a glass of chilled Lambrusco — the grape local to this ham's native lands — to see what all the fuss is about. It's truly living well and with purpose!

SUN NOODLE

In 1981, Sun Noodle’s founder, Hidehito Uki, made his way from Japan to Hawaii with only a suitcase, a noodle machine, and a dream. His dream was to bring the best Japanese noodles to everyone. Day in and day out he hustled, going door to door, giving out fresh noodle samples and tweaking them to suit each chef’s taste. Since then, the Sun Noodle ‘Ohana’ has been crafting experiences that unite people around the world with these fresh, all-natural artisan noodles.

Both professional and home chefs create comforting meals with these delicious restaurant-quality noodles. Sun Noodle strives to bring passion, joy, and the spirit of aloha to crafting noodles to cook, slurp, and enjoy. Across four plants in Honolulu, Los Angeles, Carlstadt, and Rotterdam, Sun Noodle produces 300,000 portions of noodles every day. There are no limitations on how chefs can create the perfect dish with these noodles; fusion flavors reign supreme. Some popular fusion dishes include birria ramen, which features the Tokyo Wavy noodles and Miso broth. Another favorite is spicy miso pasta, made with Temomi noodles and miso broth concentrate.

Sun Noodle offer two bases to pair with these incredible noodles. Use them with just water or use your own stocks to riff on the base soups. Sun Noodles and bases are a delicious canvas to create the signature ramen you have been thinking about.

The thickest, and very wavy noodle. A natural partner for bold miso based soups.

FERMENTING FALL

As the days grow shorter and cooler, tastes start to gravitate towards more bold and rich flavors. Heartier dishes like soups and braises will emerge on menus previously full of lighter fare as seasonality shifts. Although patrons are embracing richness, it's vital to remember acids and fermented foods. These additions can brighten any dish which needs that little extra umph while enhancing the complex flavors of our favorite fall dishes.

For over forty years, long before fermentation and pickling became a trend, people have trusted Bubbies as an expert in fermentation and pickled products. Founded in San Francisco, CA in 1982 when Leigh Truex (a Bubbie herself) began selling her homemade naturally fermented Kosher Dill pickles at local stores and farmer's markets.

For over three generations, the De Nigris family has passionately and knowledgeably dedicated itself to the production of vinegar, in the tireless search for the best quality product. A story which began 135 years ago Armando De Nigris opened the first vinegar mill in Naples, immediately proving to be a great success.

In the spirit of fall flavors, we spotlight De Nigris Apple Cider Vinegar. Apple Cider Vinegar can be used across all menus, regardless of cuisine, for a wide variety of applications. Apple is a familiar flavor for fall and De Nigris apple cider vinegars are perfect for adding acidity and a touch of sweetness. The apple cider vinegar from De Nigris still contains the "mother" which is made of living nutrients naturally created in the fermentation process. These vinegars are perfect for dressings, marinades, sauces, or pork dishes.

INDUSTRY TRENDS

Retail & Foodservice

FALL TRENDS IN PIZZA & BURGERS

PIZZA TRENDS

You're invited to a pizza (trend) party! Below are three pizza trends to capitalize on this fall.

Anchovy Pizza

Among consumers who have tried [anchovies], 45% love or like them and 22% dislike or hate them*. The key is to get consumers to try anchovies — once they've tried them, the love/like it score goes up. Leveraging anchovies as a pizza topping could help make them more approachable. Not only is pizza a well-loved and well-known platform, anchovies are actually a traditional topping on Neapolitan pizzas, which 30% of consumers love or like and is noted to be "on fire."*

*Datassential's Consumer Preferences platform

Discover the best in anchovies from Delicious.

Make the Most of Mortadella

Mortadella can elevate sandwiches or charcuterie boards, star in stuffed pasta, or put a premium twist on pizza as a topping option, where it's often paired with pistachio and/or pesto sauce instead of red sauce.

We carry several exceptional options from Citterio, Fra'Mani, Leoncini and Molinari.

Let's Talk About Taco Pizza

There are no hard-and-fast rules when it comes to taco pizza, a mashup of two fan favorites: tacos and pizza. Operators and manufacturers can take inspiration from different aspects of tacos and pizza to create mashups unique to their concept. They can also take inspiration from trending concepts like elote for a pizza topping.

A few of our favorite toppings include: Ilchester Chili Fusion Cheddar, Spiceology El Taco Salt-Free Seasoning, and CHINGONAs Salsa Macha.

BURGER TRENDS

Datassential released a Keynote Report centered around Burgers, and below spotlights just a few of those findings.

People eat a lot of burgers. Nearly three-quarters of Americans have eaten a burger in the past week, and nearly 2 in 5 regularly eat them weekly or more often away from home.

Burgers generally work quite well for operators. Burgers are a craveable classic with consumers that help drive traffic — and they are relatively quick and simple to make, easing some concerns back-of-house.

Plant-based burgers' growth is likely levelling off. When plant-based burgers exploded in popularity several years ago, many more people beyond strict vegans and vegetarians were willing to try them — there was an element of novelty among consumers. Now, that once-explosive growth is likely settling down.

Offering both classic burger builds and customization are important to meet consumers' needs. At least some degree of customization is now standard at most restaurants. Operators that allow their patrons to customize both well-executed traditional burgers along with more innovative burger offerings stand to win with everyone that orders from them.

Burger innovation doesn't have to be super wild for it to work. Over half of operators report that burgers allow their operation to be creative and highlight interesting food trends, but don't forget that most consumers like classic toppings on their burgers, too. Simply adding an elevated cheese, premium meat, or bacon & eggs to burgers can be just enough to entice consumers.
